CONTENTS.

VOLUME XIV.

No. 1.—An Address to the People of this Island, by Richard Carlile, on his past proceedings and future prospects. On the Rise and Progress of Priests, by Philanthropos. A poetical Address to Richard Carlile on his Atheism, by Cicero Winterbottom. Letter from Wm. Inman and A. Sim to R. Carlile. Answer, Notices, and Extract from Mr. Wm. Blackshaw's Letter.

No. 2.—To the Working People of Manchester and places adjacent. General Emancipation, contended for in a reprinted Letter to Mr. James Cropper, of Liverpool. Correspondence between an early Secretary of the Society for the Suppression of Vice, and some Young Ladies. Fair play at last among the Christians. Ultimate Danger of Investing Property in the Public Funds, British or Foreign. July the nineteenth, Anniversary of the Coronation of George the Fourth. Anecdotes of Thomas Paine and Napoleon Buonaparte. Ben David's Sixth Letter. Letter 26 in conclusion to the Christian Judge Bailey. William Cobbett. Mr. Carlile's Compliments to his Old Pastor, the Rev. Mr. Lloyd, Vicar of St. Dunstan's in the West, on returning to his parish.

No. 3.—Declaration of the Catholic Bishops investigated. Priestcraft. Christian Evidence Society. Society of Universal Benevolence. To Mr. R. Carlile, with Lines on the Nettle. Mr. Cobbett. Letter from A—— B——. Do. from William Campion, W. V. Holmes to William Campion. Phrenology noticed, by R. H. Kings and Little Girls. Lingering Spite of Religious Persecutions. Mechanics' Institutions. An Address to the Journeymen of Great Britain, by F. P. Magisterial Politics. Free Discussion. Joint Stock Book Company.

No. 4.—Emancipation. Mr. Cobbett's Account of his Visit to the King's Cottage. Cobbett's Petition. J. F. to R. Carlile. Charles Walker to R. Carlile, with a statement of Subscriptions for Messrs. Clarke, &c. Continued Loves of the Black Guards and the Red Guards of Church and State. Joint Stock Book Company. To the Public, on education, by Michael Rough. On the Poor Laws, by R. H. John Clarke's Letters to Adam Clarke noticed.

No. 5.—The Rev. Robert Taylor, Preacher of Deism, and the Rev. Mr. Irving, Preacher of Rant, Cant, and Delusion. Manifesto of the Christian Evidence Society. Thomas Paine and Benjamin Franklin. Persecution of Mrs. Susannah Wright. Loves of the Red and Black Guards. Loves of the Aristocracy. Machinery; Mechanics' Institutions, &c. by F. P. Thomas Turton to the Editor of "The Republican." On Educatiou, by R. H. Epicurus to Mr. Carlile.

No. 6.—Important Variety. J. F. to the Editor of "The Republican." A page and a half to fill up. On Superstition. On the Present Marriage System, by R. H. On Burying. Smith and Larus to the Editor of "The Republican." R. Carlile versus The Sheriff of London. Mr. Beard and Mr. Ward. Mr. Robert Gourlay.

No. 7.—R. Carlile to William Allen. Letter to Mr. Peel, by R. H. Brutal Assault. Poor Laws noticed by A. Davenport. Hindoo Comic Story. C.'s Notice of Swift's View of Population.

No. 8.—R. Carlile to William Allen. On the Locality of the Jewish God, by Bailey Potts. Christianity in Nottingham. Mrs. S. Wright to R. Carlile.

No. 9.—Death of Thomas Jefferson. Death of Lord Gifford. Christian Evidence Society. Letter from a Friend, on Fossil Exuviæ and Planetary Motion. J. F. to the Editor of "The Republican." Letter copied from the "Morning Herald." Leucippus to the Editor of "The Republican." State of the Country. R. H. to Allen Davenport. On Religion, by Tencer. Dorchester Gaol. Mr. Jefferson. Bartholomew Fair.

No. 10.—Squabbles and Tricks of the Bible Society exposed by its own Members. Letter to H. Drummond, Esq. on the Apocrypha Controversy. The Fanatics Beat in Nottingham. O. O. to R. Carlile. Robert Affleck to R. Carlile. John Jones to the Editor of "The Republican." R. Carlile's Observations on O. O.'s article on God of Nature, Matter, Motion, and Mind.

No. 11.—Bickerings of the Bible Men. J. F. to the Editor of "The Republican." The Age Newspaper. F. G. B. to R. Carlile. C. B. to R. Carlile. The Articles of the Church of England paraphrased. State of Religion in England. New Biographical Dictionary. London Burying Grounds. Extracts.

No. 12.—Letter I. to the Lord Mayor. A Song for the Saints. Mr. Cobbett. Baron Maseres. Machinery and Population discussed by R. H.

No. 13.—Letter II. to the Lord Mayor. Mr. Shiel's Speech against the Duke of York. J. F. to the Editor of "The Republican." A Question. Greece and Ireland. On Character. Thos. Jas. Freeman to the Editor of "The Republican." John Fellows to R. Carlile. J. Fellows to the Editor of "The Republican." Origin of Cobbett's History of the Reformation. Rusticus to the Editor of "The Republican." O. O. to the Editor of "The Republican." O. O. to the Editor of "The Republican." A Phrenologist to the Editor of "The Republican." W. Millard to the Editor of "The Republican." Horrors of War.

No. 14.—Political Economy. A Contrast. Distress at Home. Royal Buildings. Observations by the Editor of "The Times." Note by the Editor of "The Republican." What is God? No. 2, by O. O. Inconvenience and Immorality of Oaths. W. V. Holmes to the Editor of "The Republican." A Dialogue between a Philanthropist and a Labourer. Proof of the Importance of the Instructions of Every Woman's Book. Biographical Dictionary.

No. 15.—State of the Reviews. Ecclesiastical Establishments. Bible Society Bickerings. Thetford Bible Society. Tithes. Lines on contemplating the Statue of Venus de Medicis. Criterions of Truth in Speculative Questions. The Westminster Review on the Formation of Opinions. Specimen of a pampered Aristocrat. J. F. to the Editor of "The Republican.

No. 16.—Corn Laws. What is God? by Shebago. What is God? No. 3, by O. O. News. What is God? Intolerance of the Saints. Epicurus to the Editor of "The Republican." Questor to the Editor of "The Republican." Opinions of the late Professor Porson. Ecclesiastical Establishments.

No. 17.—The new Orthodoxy. Meeting at Manchester. Speech of the Rev. Rowland Detrosier. E. K. D. to the Editor of "The Republican." Epitome of an Anatomical, Physiological, and Noological Lecture. On the Duties which a Man Owes to his Country—A Discourse by the Rev. Robert Taylor. Ecclesiastical Establishments.

No. 18.—On the Duties which the Government Owes to the Governed—A Discourse by the Rev. Robert Taylor. All Religions are Cruel. Extract from the Will of Richard Barrow. Extracts from Voltaire's Letters to Madame du Deffaud. Lord Mayor's Day. Geology, by Shebago, Supplement to Shebago's What is God. Ecclesiastical Establishments.

No. 19.—Death of Richard Hassell. The Gods; or, Theological Reflections, by Allen Davenport. O. O. to the Editor of "The Republican," concerning the reality of Jesus Christ. Omicron to Herbert Marsh, Bishop of Peterborough. Lines on the Death of Richard Hassell. Lines written after witnessing Richard Hassell's Funeral. Infernal Cruelty of Christians towards Women. E. K. D. to the Editor of "The Republican." Ecclesiastical Establishments.

No. 20.—On Miracles. Homo to R. Carlile. Metaphysics. Letter to and from Mr. G. Knight. Twenty-four Questions by the Orator of the Christian Evidence Society. Answer to Homo. R. Carlile to J. E. C. Philo to the Editor of "The Republican."

Wm. Allen to R. Carlile, in Answer to a late Pamphlet. The King's Speech. Extract from Humphrey Boyle's Letter.

No. 21.—R. Carlile to the British Parliament. Forged Petition of the Rev. Robert Taylor. The Theology of the Ancient Persians, the Hindoos, and the Christians compared. T. R. P. to the Editor of "The Republican." Christian Evidence Society. "I AM" going to Kiss Mary. Law. Physic, and Divinity for twenty-pence.

No. 22.—Oath-making. Infidel Deaths. Joint Stock Book Company. A Petition to the House of Commons, by R. Carlile. Deisticus to Homo. On Fortune-telling, and the Sortileges of the Ancients. The Moral Doctrines and Ethical Precepts of Paganism and Christianity compared, On the Nature of Oaths. A Constant Reader, to the Editor of "The Republican." Promised Newspaper.

No. 23.—To the Republicans of the Island of Great Britain on the War that is likely to end in Universal European Republicanism. Forgery. Remarks on the Genius and Writings of the late Mr. Percy Bysshe Shelley. Infidelity and Catholicism. On the Nature of God. What is God, by Shebago. Caduceus to Mr. R. Carlile. A Petition to the Commons of Great Britain and Ireland in Parliament Assembled. Epitaph on a Faithful Dog.

No. 24.—Arguments proving that the Romish Religion Ruins all those States where it is the Established Religion.

No. 25.—To the Readers of the Republican. Statement of the Affairs of the Joint Stock Book Company. John Smith, of Fordmoss, to R. Carlile. Bible versus the Priest, by Regulator. Verax in Defence of Roman Catholicism. Letter from Robert Little. Notice of the Abuses of the College of Physicians. Death of Mr. Thomas Davison, and of a Mr. Sealey of Bath. Squire Farrar on Currency. William Millard to R. Carlile.